

Statement of Lisa Anne Hamilton
Candidate for Steering Committee
Environment, Energy, & Natural Resources Law Community

As co-chair of the Environment, Energy and Natural Resources Community, it has been a privilege to support our community at an incredibly dynamic time. Over the last several years as we've built back engagement, we have worked hard to reconnect our members by collaborating with affinity bars across the country and reengage local partners to present a variety of events and programs to meet the demands of a rapidly changing regulatory environment. I believe this commitment to excellence in programming has deepened our mutual understanding and contributed to our recognition as the DC Bar's Community of the Year in 2024. It has been an honor and a privilege to serve as co-chair for the Environment, Energy and Natural Resources Community and I would welcome the opportunity to do so again.
